

SEMI-WEEKLY SOUTH KENTUCKIAN
CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1888.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A live and growing city of 8,000 inhabitants, situated in a county of 40,000. The Louisville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county and the people have recently voted $100,000 to two new roads. Largest tobacco growing county in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, coal, live stock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $450,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three cotton gins, two foundries, three brick yards, broom factory, steam laundry, ice factory, two large flouring mills in the city and several in the county. Splendid driving park and fine opera house. Five turpentine plantations in Hopkinsville. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numbered streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the finest system of public schools, white and colored, in the State. Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum with a population of 850, two miles east of the city. A $100,000 court house with town clock in the dome. A fine fire department and a company of State Guards. Little River furnishes an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Real estate low and rents cheap. Fine opening for woolen mill, pork packing establishment, fruit cannery, tannery and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthful.

The news from Mississippi this week is rather Wah-lak.

The yellow fever quarantine has now been raised between all points in the South.

Prince Alexander, of Hesse, is dead and the Prussian Court will go into mourning for one week.

The Clarksville Semi-Weekly Democrat will go back to its weekly form with the first issue after Jan. 1.

Mr. D. B. Cooper has sold his interest in the Nashville American to his recent associates and retired from that paper.

The Republican Senators in caucus have decided not to adjourn for the holidays, as an adjournment would interrupt the consideration of the tariff bill.

Henry George has returned from a five-weeks trip to Europe, where he had been acquiring new ideas of socialism. He professes to be thoroughly satisfied with his trip.

By the passage of the bill to refund the direct taxes paid by the States under the 1861 law, Kentucky will get $713,000. The entire amount to be refunded is about $22,000,000.

A total eclipse of the sun will be visible to a large portion of North America on Jan. 1, 1889. It will be only partial in Kentucky, beginning at 3:50 p. m. and ending after sunset.

The Cincinnati Centennial Exposition was a failure to such an extent that 25 per cent of the guarantee fund will have to be collected from the subscribers. The receipts were only $100,000, while the expenditures amount to $725,000.

The Court of Appeals has decided that city taxes can be collected on whisky in bond, in addition to the city license tax. The decision will enable Louisville, Lexington and Owensboro to add large amounts to their revenues.

Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett and other leading American actors have joined in a movement to exclude foreign actors from the United States, under the contract labor law. This would end at once all engagements of Mrs. Langtry and other English stars.

Morgan T. Craft formerly editor of the London Leader, died at his home in London, Lancashire last Sunday, in the 26th year of age. He was practicing law at the time of his death, which was the result of a protracted spell of typhoid fever. He leaves a young wife and one small child.

Madam Dis de Bar, the "Spook Princess," has been released from the Blackwell's Island penitentiary, after six months' imprisonment for swindling Lawyer Marsh by spiritualistic impostures. While in prison she gained twenty pounds in flesh, to say nothing of experience.

The Globe-Democrat figures out, in the revised returns, a plurality for Cleveland of 107,438, in a total vote of 1,104,861. If these surplus votes could have been put where they could do Mr. Cleveland the most good, they would have enabled him to carry New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, California, Colorado, Nevada and Oregon, and there would have still been more than 10,000 votes left to increase the slender pluralities of Virginia, West Virginia and Connecticut.

The Louisville Times is discussing the next race for Governor and mentions Pryor, Lafoon, Hagar, Cash, Clay, Jr., and Will Owens as probable candidates. Bryan, Harris and Durham might also be added to this list somewhere near the top, but the Kentuckian has its eye on a gentleman in the extreme western end of the State, who is the peer of any man mentioned and who could conceivably go into the convention with the solid vote of three districts than any other man in this neck of woods. He is at present occupying an important position, but if he should take a notion to run for Governor the man who could beat Bill Stone would have to get up and hustle. He has but one leg, but he has a habit of "getting there" every time he runs for an office.

DEPARTED ODD FELLOWS.

Delivered by W. F. Randle in Odd Fellows Hall at the Annual Memorial Services Held Dec. 14th, 1888.

It is well that there are times in our lives when we are called to a halt that we may for a short while take a retrospective glance at the road over which we have marched, and call the roll and see who have fallen out of ranks, and laid aside their "scrips, sandals and staff," and have fallen asleep, and are laid to rest under the shade of the trees by the wayside. It is said that persons who are old have as many friends on the other shore as on this. How is it with us here to-night? Take paper and pencil, and begin to record the names of those with whom you began life; the companions of your school days; the early associates in business; the members of the family circle; the friends of middle life, and those who recently went away. See how the number gone will compare with the number here.

Our purpose here to-night, is to make a brief comparison of this character, with regard to the members of this lodge, which we are taught to regard as our family.

On the 16th day of Sept., 1848, Green River Lodge, No. 54, I. O. O. F. of Hopkinsville was organized. The following named brothers constituted the family at that time: James Young, Langley Bell, Waller Sharp, William L. Henry, Robert McKee, Spotswood H. Mosely, Jacob G. Gish, Wm. S. Talbot, Albert Pemberton, Alex. D. Rodgers, David J. Hooser, David R. Beard. Total membership, 12.

This seems to have been a very prosperous lodge, and gathered within its ranks the ablest minds of the town and vicinity. The following statement will give some idea of the growth of this Lodge: The records show that from Sept. 10th, 1848 to Sept. 1862, there had been to its membership. The many fires through which the Lodge passed destroyed much of its property, valuable records, etc.; but enough has been preserved to enable us to get the following names of those who have finished their course over the rugged way of life, and have gone to their everlasting reward:

W. L. Henry	Oct. 1849
John McLaughlin	Nov. 1851
C. M. Weasley	July 1854
R. L. Landon	June 1854
H. M. Lyster	Aug. 1855
T. H. Baker	Apr. 1858
David H. Donovan	Nov. 1859
S. E. Gray	Nov. 1859
R. Ross	Dec. 1859
C. E. Beard	Aug. 1862
W. M. Myers	1861
M. K. Lawson	1860
W. D. Lander	1878
C. J. Brackroge	1879
E. H. Crutchfield	1880
J. Harlan West	June 1882
W. J. Witty	1881
John B. Cheaney	1881
Louis Elb	1881
H. D. McQuigg	1881
Louis Solomon	1881

To many of us, these names are strange. They lived and died before our day in this city. Yet there are names on this death roll, that are near and dear to many hearts here now. But, there was a time when every name read on this roll, carried with the sound of it a thrill of rapture to the heart of some dear one, and their presence has filled the family circle with a joy that no other could have given. But many of these names are familiar to most of us, and very dear to many.

Within the past ten years, we have buried Brothers W. D. Lander, C. J. Brackroge, E. H. Crutchfield, Harlan West, W. J. Witty, John B. Cheaney, Louis Elb, H. D. McQuigg, and Louis Solomon. Brother W. D. Lander, was, perhaps, as widely known in this community as any man who lived in it, as he was a very energetic business man, and a very useful man, having transactions with hundreds and doubtless thousands of men, all the while enjoying the highest appreciation of the people, and died loved and lamented by a community in which he had spent his life.

Brother C. J. Brackroge, quiet, and rather reserved in manner, but his heart was large enough to take in the world, and it can be truly said of him, "who knew him best, loved him most."

Brother E. H. Crutchfield: Who did not love brother Crutchfield? He was a man among men. A man of force and independence of character. Firm as the Rock of Gibraltar. Possessing the highest type of manhood, industry, sobriety, honesty, and integrity. Who was ever known to question the veracity of Edward H. Crutchfield? He was indeed and in truth an Odd Fellow. Ever ready with open heart and hand, to aid in the relief of distress, raising the fallen, and elevating the character of man. Brother Harlan West was known far and wide as a scrupulously honest man; a gentle and unobtrusive character, whose every day life was a shining example to those around him.

Brother W. J. Witty was one of Nature's truest sons. He practiced in every day life, those grand principles upon which the superstructure of our order rests, viz: Friendship, Love and Truth.

Brother John B. Cheaney was one of the warmest hearted men this Lodge ever had. The appeals for charity always met a willing and hearty response at his hands. Brother Louis Elb was a devoted Odd Fellow, and a regular attendant upon the Lodge meetings, until his old age and declining health, rendered him incompetent to make many visits to his lodge, but his heart was in the work. Brother Elb was everybody's friend; he knew no malice, and always had a smile, and a pleasant greeting for those around him.

known to the most of us, and his gentleness of character, and kindness of heart was the admiration of those of us who knew him intimately. Brother Louis Solomon. Brethren, who of us did not love Brother Solomon? His cheerful face, his warm heart, the cordial grasp of his hand, was irresistible. He seemed to love everybody, and his liberality of soul was so wonderful. He seemed to realize "how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." The day he was buried, one of the oldest members of this Lodge, said, "We have buried Louis Solomon and in so doing, we have laid to rest one of the most charitable hearts that ever throbbed in the bosom of man."

To cherish the memory of the loved and lost, and to commemorate the virtues of those who have been faithful workers in our beloved Brotherhood, is one of the sad, yet mournfully pleasing duties devolved upon us. Year by year, death performs its relentless work and adds new names to the long catalogue of those whose bodies have gone down to the dust and the grave, and whose spirits have returned to God who gave them. Death is no respecter of persons. The old man in the full fruition of his years, like a ripe sheaf is gathered into the garner; and the young man in the full strength of his noble prime, falls before the ruthless scythe of time. As we are all doomed to death, and tending to the night of the grave, and wait the inevitable hour when the dust shall return to its native home beneath, and the soul to its rest on high, ought we not to give heed to the practice of those virtues, which adorn our characters while living and take away the sting of death when walking through the dark valley, and open the gates of glory when we have passed over the Jordan, and admit us to the green fields of Eden where there is rest for the soul. And now brethren of Green River Lodge, over forty years have passed since this Lodge was organized, and we stand here and call the roll of members who started out on the 16th day of Sept. 1848, and how many of the twelve answer! David J. Hooser and David R. Beard. After forty years wandering in the wilderness, Joshua and Caleb were all that answered to roll call out of the great multitude that left Egypt.

So here to-night, we have our Joshua and Caleb, who have assisted in leading us young soldiers who have been born and raised during the past forty years of the pilgrimage of this family in this wilderness of trials, sorrow, disappointment and death. These old soldiers are now standing upon this bank of the Jordan, with a steadfast gaze upon the promised land, and as did Joshua and Caleb with the children of Israel, so are these dear old Brothers urging us to go forward, and like true and brave soldiers, surmount all obstacles, conquer the lost enemy, and go over and possess the land which the Lord has promised us an inheritance forever.

KENTUCKY KNOWLEDGE.

Wash Henderson shot and killed Riley Spencer, near Elizabethtown, Tuesday.

Dan Miller, col., killed J. C. Wagner, a watch peddler, near Bardonia. Miller escaped.

Jerome A. Babbitt and Jordan Page fell from a scaffold in Louisville Monday and were killed.

Henry Skinner, of Skinner's Ferry, Powell county, Ky., is 93 years of age and has children varying from 27 to 65 years. His eyesight has just returned in perfection, a new set of teeth have grown in his mouth, and a full growth of dark hair has appeared on what was once a bald surface.

Bert Whitmore, of Stillwater, Minn., escaped death Tuesday by a close shave. He, to all appearances, died of typhoid fever and, after being laid out, a barber was sent for to shave him. The razor man proved to be something of a raiser himself, for while he was skinning the victim in a characteristically barberous manner, the supposed corpse raised up and entered a vigorous protest against proceeding further with the funeral arrangements. He is now out of danger.

CREAM OF THE NEWS.

Burglars' Breaks.

Last Monday night burglars broke open J. T. Ayers', and W. R. Featherston's stores at Cedar Hill, Tenn., and secured $50 in cash and about $75 in postage stamps. On the following night, two store houses at Guthrie were burglarized and about $30 in cash secured, and a large number of stamps taken also. Tuesday morning three suspicious characters were taken in at Clarksville, and an officer from Cedar Hill telephoned. On arrival he identified the men as the same ones who were loitering in the vicinity of the burglarized stores the night before at Cedar Hill, and it is likely that the right birds have been trapped. The work was evidently done by cracksmen, as the safes were blown open without difficulty, and the entries to the stores were made with precision and without noise.

The City Tax.

The following statement of the profits of the city tax collector's office is handed to the KENTUCKIAN and vouched for as correct, by a former collector:

Total white tax.....	$25,376.71
Total colored tax.....	1,814.50
Railroad tax.....	541.40
Total.....	$27,732.61
Delinquent and sold for tax 1,200.00
	$26,532.61

The collector gets a little over four per cent for collection and his pay amounts to $1,000 or $1,050. The charter requires a bond to cover all of the entire revenue, so the collector has to give a good bond for about $30,000.

Held Not Guilty.

The body of Leslie Keys, who was accidentally killed by young Vance, Sunday, at Crofton, was carried to Nortonville for interment. Keys was a son of Dick Keys, who has been particularly unfortunate in the loss of his family, having previously buried his wife and three other children. An inquest was held over the body of the young man and a verdict returned exonerating young Vance, who is nearly crazed with grief over the unfortunate accident.

Remember the Carrier.

Jesup Tandy, the KENTUCKIAN carrier, will call upon the patrons and friends of the paper next Tuesday morning with his annual address, in observance of a long established custom. He has been a careful and faithful carrier during the year and we trust those upon whom he may call as he delivers the next regular issue of the KENTUCKIAN, will remember him in a substantial manner and see that he is not lacking for Christmas money.

The County Grange.

The County Grange, which was organized at Church Hill in October, held its called meeting at Douglas Grange the third Saturday in December. Three Granges, of the five, were represented. An organization was perfected with Capt. C. D. Bell as Master and Jno. F. Clardy as Secretary. The next quarterly meeting will be held with Gracey Grange the first Saturday in March.

Lost a Hand.

A young man named Pool, while toying with a pistol cartridge, at his home near Sebree, Tuesday, succeeded in exploding it by tapping on its side with a knife, the ball completely tearing away one hand. Medical aid was summoned at once, and he will recover with the loss of a hand.

Heavy Weights.

"SENATOR UPDEGRAFF" SOLD.

Withers & Willis' Fine Trotter Purchased by a Kansas Man.

As briefly mentioned in a former issue, the bay stallion, "Senator Updegraff," was sold last Monday to Mr. O. P. Updegraff, of Riverside Stock Farm, Topeka, Kansas. This magnificent young four-year-old has a record of 2:43 1/2 in the mud. He is standard and registered, No. 8471, sired by Simmons (son of George Wilkes) out of Macamo Updegraff, by Flying Hiatoga. He is one of the very best young horses in the State of Kentucky, speedy, level-headed and as honest as any trotting horse in the land and as game as ever headed to the wire. Individually he is a Wilkes, though finished. A horse of a fine combination of bone muscle and great power. He has been the admiration of all the lovers of fine stock in this vicinity and there is a universal feeling of regret among horse men that he has been taken away. He was purchased by Withers and Wilkes when nine months old for $500, from W. H. Wilson, of Cynthiana, Ky., who bred him.

The same gentlemen also sold to Mr. Updegraff "Charlie Withers," a weanling foaled Mar. 9, 1888, by "Senator Updegraff," dam "Stella W." by "Pheasant Jr." (son of imported Pheasant, sire Ten Broeck); second dam Hattie W., by Tom Hal, sire Brown Jug, Brown Hal and others. This youngster is the counterpart of his sire and should make a great horse, his dam being an extra fast road mare and of high breeding and largely thoroughbred. The terms of the sales are not made public, but they run up into the thousands. They were negotiated by Mr. R. B. Withers, who raised and has trained "Senator" for the last three years.

A Diamond Palace.

Kelly's Diamond Palace, nearly opposite the court house in this city, was established in Cadiz in 1806 and removed to Hopkinsville 1883. A visit to this magnificent establishment will convince any one that in stock and furniture it is unrivaled in the State, outside of the large cities. It is a jewelry store of the first-water; no mixing up with cheap trash or general merchandise. The aim of the proprietor has been and is to keep nothing but the best of goods, and confine himself strictly to his line of business, and thus gratify the refined tastes of the better class of people. The evidence of the appreciation of this by his patrons is shown in his increased and constantly increasing trade, which makes necessary a corresponding increase in stock and to such an extent that he had to add recently several new show-cases and counters to meet the demands of his trade. His store is "in fact" a Diamond Palace, as his stock of diamonds alone is equal in value to the entire stock of the ordinary jewelry store. He is an expert in this special line and as he guarantees his goods to be as represented his patrons run no risk in their purchases. Another feature of the Diamond Palace is, that it is a one-price store. Mr. Kelly abhors the cut-throat practice of offering at one price and selling at a lower price in order to make buyers believe they are getting goods cheap. By such a system customers never know when they are getting the value of their money. His motto is a uniform one-price to all and this the lowest and if by adhering to it he sometimes loses a sale he feels that it is right and he would "rather be right than be president of the United States."—New Era.

AMUSEMENTS.

N. S. Woods, the noted comedian, will appear in this city on the 29th inst in the spectacular play, "The Waifs of New York." This will be one of the best attractions of the season.

"Si Perkins, or The Girl I Left Behind Me," Frank Jones' great domestic play, by E. A. Locke, will be the attraction for to-morrow night. This will be a very laughable comedy, a thrilling machine being on the stage, and it should draw a packed house. If the weather is good, so that the company's elegant costume will not be soiled, a street parade will be given at about 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon.

"The Black Flag" was given at the Opera House last night to a fair audience. The company is above mediocrity and the scenery was especially effective. The leading roles were sustained by R. G. Guphill and Marie De Lano.

The presentation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" at the Opera House Tuesday night was a real treat in the dramatic line. This intensely interesting play was given in excellent style by a company much above the average. Mr. Ober in the dual character of Jekyll and Hyde, Mrs. Ober who dramatized the piece and takes the part of Mrs. Poole and Fred L. Power as Lawyer Utterson are first-rate artists and sustained their respective parts in the most praiseworthy manner. Miss Hamilton as Mable Carew did some very effective acting, though the character is an addition to the play and is of secondary importance. The company will play a return engagement on the 27th and we predict a large audience as it is certainly a meritorious production.

Shot in the Shoulder.

Last Tuesday night Julius Carter and Pig Green, both colored, quarreled, at a meat shop on 7th street, near the railroad. Green knocked Carter down, when they were separated. A few minutes later the difficulty was renewed, both parties having repaired to West 7th, near the river, when Carter was again made to stretch himself at full length upon the ground. In a few moments he arose and going into the tent of John Boyd, col., secured a pistol and coming out fired upon Green, the shot taking effect in his left shoulder, making an ugly, though not serious wound. Carter was arrested and placed in jail and will have a trial to-morrow.
